The Manufacturers’ Center for Legal Action positions the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) as the leading voice of manufacturers in the courts. The Center’s legal team fights in the courts to rein in regulatory overreach, protect our hard-fought legislative gains and ensure a level playing field for manufacturers. The team engages in first-party litigation, provides amicus support in key cases, and promotes education about the legal issues that impact the vitality of the manufacturing sector. Key fights include:

- Pushing back in the courts against unrealistic and overly burdensome regulations affecting the environment, labor and employment, product liability, intellectual property, and trade.
- Conducting litigation trend analysis to ensure our members are prepared for upcoming legal battles.
- Securing victories in punitive damages, securities, public nuisance, resale price maintenance, Alien Tort Statute, free speech, and other cases.

For further details on these and other issues, visit the Center for Legal Action’s Search Engine at http://lawcenter.nam.org. You can find out about all the major cases affecting manufacturers in which the NAM is involved.
