Indiana Benefits from Exports!

Manufactured goods exports are the strongest part of Indiana's economy even though Indiana and other states export only half as much of their production as the world average. America's exports and the related jobs could double if Congress passes strong pro-export legislation.

- Manufactured exports support 24 percent of Indiana's manufacturing jobs.
- Since 2003, Indiana manufacturing exports rose three times as fast as the state's overall economy.
- 86 percent of Indiana exporters are small businesses (2009).
- Indiana exported $14.1 billion of manufactured goods to Free Trade Agreement (FTA) partner countries in 2010 — 50 percent of Indiana's total.
